

Teachers or Workshop Leaders, Celebrate The Writing Achievements of Your Workshop Group!

You've had a wonderful time starting children out on their writing journey. Whether the children in your workshop were beginners or practiced poets, it's important to make sure they know they have achieved something brilliant today. Even small writing activities, such as jotting down a few sentences, are a huge milestone and deserve to be celebrated and shared.

See how you can celebrate writing achievements below.

You will need:

1 A photo of your Workshop

A photograph of some writing created in your workshop. The writing doesn't have to be visible in the image if your child isn't ready to share it yet. It could just be an image of the group's exercise books. Make sure you have permission to share these on social media if children are in the photograph!

If you don't have a camera or don't have permission to share a photo, just copy out a few words from their writing or describe what amazing things you got up to in your workshop.

2 A few sentences from you

Add a sentence or two praising the way the children in your workshop engaged with writing or the strengths of their piece. Alternatively, ask the children to write a sentence describing how writing made them feel.

We value your privacy. We will never use full names or locations in our posts.

How to send us your celebration

EMAIL US

Send us an email containing part one and part two to writers@papernations.org. We'll post it on our social media channels so the larger writing community can partake in your workshop group's celebration of writing.

SOCIAL MEDIA

Post parts one and two straight to social media. Just upload your image (or equivalent text) from part one with the sentence from part two to either Twitter, Instagram, or Facebook. Tag us using @PaperNationsUK with the hashtag #daretowrite so we can find and share it!

USE TEMPLATE ATTACHED

Print out and fill in the template on the other side of this page with parts one and two. Take a photo of this template. Next, either email the photo of the completed template to writers@papernations.org or post it on Facebook, Twitter, or Instagram, tagging @PaperNationsUK and using the hashtag #daretowrite.

Then you're free to display this celebration poster in your workshop group's classroom!

TOP TIP:

Remember, if your social media has high privacy settings, we may not be able to see or share your post even if you tag us. If you still want to share your celebration without changing your settings, we can post it from our accounts. Simply email your image and sentences or a photo of the completed template to writers@papernations.org.

Writing Achievements

Stick the photo of your Workshop here

OR Use the space provided to include a small sample of the writing produced in your workshop or describe the writing that was created.

Write some feedback here

Praise your the amazing stories, poem, comic, or other type of inventive writing created in your workshop. If the children don't want to share their writing, you could ask them to write a sentence describing how writing makes them feel in the space provided.
